Alex Boye' Music Video set at Loveland Living Planet Aquarium

The Loveland Living Planet Aquarium welcomed local singer Alex Boye' and the One Voice Children's Choir earlier this month for a music video shoot. With the Aquarium's unique features, Boye's crew decided it would be the perfect spot to film their latest video.

"The Aquarium has so much to offer as a filming location," said Marketing Director Suzy Broadbent. "It has so many unique features including an Amazon rainforest and a 40-foot shark tunnel; things you can't find anywhere else in Utah."

This is the first music video filmed at the Aquarium. Recently a nationally televised show "At Your Leisure" filmed an episode at the Aquarium. For more on filming at the Aquarium, visit this page: <http://www.thelivingplanet.com/index.php/location-filming-guidelines>.

Koko Blush and Co. did the styling for the music video. They helped the stars with makeup and costumes. They also did the set design, including a hot air balloon centerpiece in the Journey to South America gallery.

The Aquarium is hosting a premiere party in the 4-D theater for the video on Tuesday evening. We invite the media to come cover the event and get a first look at the video that is expected to go viral in no time!
