Loveland Living Planet Aquarium goes to Salt Lake Comic Con!

The Loveland Living Planet Aquarium is pleased to be a part of the second annual Salt Lake Comic Con! We are excited to show off some of our creepy, crawly creatures, including Hissing cockroaches, Giant Cave cockroaches, a Garter snake and more. Our education team will teach visitors about these unique animals and their special powers. They will also bring along Dusty, a friendly African Grey parrot.

Comic Con visitors can step inside our rainforest booth to get a picture with a body paint model. Local artist Sammie Bartko volunteered her time to the Aquarium to paint the models and show her amazing skills!

Salt Lake Comic Con 2013 was the largest first year Comic Con in North American history, and the largest convention EVER to take place in Utah! We the media to visit the Aquarium's booth at the Comic Con and see all the fun things we're doing to inspire people to learn about Earth's diverse ecosystems!
