Loveland Living Planet Aquarium donates to the Salt Lake Head Start Program

The Loveland Living Planet Aquarium collected canned goods this November to donate to the Salt Lake chapter of the Head Start Program. Head Start and Early Head Start are childhood development programs serving low-income children from birth to five years old, and their families.

The program is called "Stuff a Tummy." Thanks to Aquarium employees and guests, select families in need will be able to pick up a Thanksgiving dinner. On Tuesday, November 25, Aquarium employees will help distribute the food to families at Head Start headquarters in Salt Lake City. The Aquarium is also donating 2500 tickets so Head Start families can visit the Aquarium.

"This has been a rewarding experience for our guests and staff to contribute to families in need. As a non-profit organization, we also rely on generous support of others, so it has been great to give back," said Brent Andersen, Founder and CEO of the Loveland Living Planet Aquarium.

Aquarium guests received one free admission to Tuki's Island: Play & Party Center for each can of food they donated. The Aquarium plans to continue this partnership with Head Start each November.
